ACT ADVISOR Psychological Flexibility Measure

In this diagram there are six double-headed arrows, each with contrasting statements at either end. The arrows represent sliding scales, numbered 1-10, between each set of statements. For each scale, choose whereabouts you would place yourself (i.e., at which number), depending on how closely, or otherwise, you feel the statements apply to you. If you feel that the statements apply equally, or that neither statement applies to you, score 5. Enter your scores in the box below, then total them to give a Psychological Flexibility score.

ATTENTION TO PRESENT SCALE

1. I spend most of my time paying attention to what is happening in the present moment.
2. I willingly accept my thoughts and feelings even when I don't like them.
3. I see each of my thoughts as just one of many ways to think about things — what I do next is up to me.
4. My thoughts tell me how things really are, and determine what I do next.
5. Deep down, my thoughts and feelings are the real me.
6. My thoughts and feelings come and go, but deep down the real me doesn't change.
7. I am clear about what I choose to value in life.
8. I don't know what I want from life.
9. I don't manage to act on the things I care about.
10. I work out what I need to do about the things I care about, and I see it through.
